TO COMPLETE DRIVE FOR SALVATION ARMY

The drive for funds for the Salvation Army will be kept up in Washington this week in an endeavor to s ecure the quota of $15,000 which the town was to raise. Many events last week prevented a number of workers from giving attention to the movement, but this week it is hoped to reach the amount. The campaign in the entire county appears to have been going very slowly, but it may be revived in June, when it is proposed to finish it.

HELMET AWARDED BY LADIES' COMMITTEE

The Charleroi Liberty Loan Committee, consisting of fifty-one representative women were royally entertained by the town chairman, Mrs. C. C Wright, last evening at her home on Fallowfield avenue. Mrs. Ellis Allman opened the program with a very interesting talk on "Woman's Part in the Success of the Liberty Loan Drives." Mrs. G. M. Stewart, a district chairman spoke of "Woman's Part in the War, along Various Industrial Lines," closing with a report of her own district.

Mrs. McCullough, district chairman of Monongahela was present and gave in a very pleasing talk her report which was indeed marvelous. She then, in behalf of the Treasury Department, presented each Liberty Loan worker with a beautiful medal, for their patriotic services in behalf of the Liberty Loans. The hostess then presented to Della P. Halstead a beautiful German helmet as a reward for selling the largest number of bonds, she having brought in $8,500. Mrs. Geo. Leith, Mrs. Ray Humbert and Mrs. J. F. Laird deserve favorable mention, each having sold over $5,000 worth of bonds. A piano solo was given by Miss Pearson, after which Captain Gee of Monongahela gave an intensely interesting account of his four months spent in a German prison camp. John D. Berryman, the town chairman then made a rousing patriotic address, highly commending the ladies for their help in bringing victory to the Allies. The program of the evening was brought to a close with a very fitting vocal solo by Rev. Rees, entitled "The Bugler," with Miss Mary Welch as accompanist. A sumptuous repast was then furnished by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bowers left Tuesday morning for Washington, D. C. where their d aughter, Miss Jean will graduate from National Park Seminary on Thursday, May 29. Miss Bowers expects to attend the house party at State College before she returns home.

Approves Proposal for the Million Dollar Bond Issue

The Washington Board of Trade, at a meeting held Tuesday evening, went on record as favoring the improved road program as formulated by the Washington County Good Roads Association in agreement with the State Highway department and by formal resolution approved the proposed bond issue of $1,000,000 which is to be passed upon by the voters of the county on the 17th of June.

A number of visitors were present from different parts of the county, with Charleroi among the communities represented.

H. R. Campbell, chief clerk to the county commissioners, using a stereopticon lantern and slides, explained the road situation as it is in the county at the present time and outlined in detail the new plans, paying particular attention to the financial part of the good roads improvement.

He showed by a series of comprehensive and graphic charts that the indebtedness caused by the bond issue, if it carried, would not average more than three-forths of a mill additional annually during the 18 years the bonds were to run. It was also shown that if the direct tax scheme had been followed it would have yielded only 320 miles of improved road, while the bond issue will result in 390 miles.

Of the $1,000,000 asked for road improvement, $750,000 will be put in new roads and the state will match the county dollar for dollar in the building of these roads. The roads to be improved are the Washington-Monongahela, Washington to the West Virginia state line, Hickory-Burgettstown, Speers-Coal Center and Canonsburg-Venice. The remaining $250,000 will be used by the county in resurfacing and improving county roads now on state routes. After their improvement the state will take them over and will maintain them in the future.

BOYS PRINT THEIR PAPER IN ENGLISH

A copy of the only paper printed in the English language in Germany, "De Wacht Am Rhein," whose publication office is at Coblenz, was received at the Mail office this morning from Palmer Ashton, now serving with the American Army of Occupation. He is a member of the 29th Engineers and has been serving overseas for almost two years. The paper has a number of cartoons, as well as a number of splendid contributions, all of which have a tendency to make life a little more interesting for the "doughboys" who still remain abroad.

SAMUEL C. TODD IS MADE CHIEF CLERK

Secretary of the Commonwealth Cyrus E. Woods has announced, that with the approval of Governor Sproul he had appointed Samuel C. Todd, of Charleroi, chief clerk in the State Department. Mr. Todd, who for several years was State Controller, succeeds George D. Thorn, who on account of impaired health has desired for some time to be relieved of the position and take charge of the new election bureau of the department.

FORMAL WELCOME TO RETURNED SOLDIERS

The formal home-coming celebration in honor of returned soldiers was held in Monongahela this afternoon, in which a number of Charleroi veterans took part. A parade was held at 3 o'clock, after which an address of welcome was delivered and the day's festivities will end with a chicken dinner to the soldiers in the State Armory. The Mayor of the city proclaimed a half holiday, beginning at 12 o'clock, in order to allow all business men and their employes to take part in the demonstration. Up to last evening it was known that fourteen bands would be in line, including the Charleroi band, as well as the Donora Steel and the Pittsburg Steel Products band. The railroad men will have the Pitcairn band, while Elizabeth, McKeesport, New Eagle and other towns will be represented by some one of their leading musical organizations.

So far as public assemblies are concerned Monongahela is anticipating the largest crowd of people it has ever entertained.

MAKES INSPECTION OF RIVER IMPROVEMENTS

Rivers, harbors and pending river improvement work in and near Pittsburgh was inspected on Tuesday by Major General William M. Black, chief engineer of the United States army, and one of the noted river and harbor experts of the United States. He is very enthusiastic over the business outlook of the Pittsburgh district and said that much of the prosperity of that city was due to the rivers.

MUSICAL AUXILIARY IN PLEASING PROGRAM

Tuesday evening the Musical Auxiliary held their annual concert in the Methodist church. A large audience was in attendance. The chorus under the direction of Mrs. A. G. Lewis presented in pleasing style six numbers. Solo parts in the choruses were sung by Misses Ethel Barth and Emma Clutter. Miss Ethel Barth, the well known soprano sang two numbers "A Maiden Love a Little Boy" and "The Americans Come." Never was Miss Barth heard to a better advantage and both her numbers were excellent, tosay the least. May Barth Kinder played effectively the "Persian March" Strauss Grunfeld. She was forced to respond with an encore. Miss Gwen Treasure, of Pittsburg, a former member of the club, rendered two violin solos. For her first number she played the violin Concerto No. 7 Andante, by DeBeriot and for the second "Minuett" by Mozart. Both numbers were enthusiastically received. Another pleasing feature of the program was the trio, "One Fleeting Hour" by Mary Glunt Nicholson, Isabelle E. Dorbritz and Mabel Orange. Myrtle Clendennon Blackburn in her usual delightful way read two numbers. Accompaniments were played by Bethel Bowman Della Jacobs, May Barth Kinder and Marguerite W. Gaut. The proceeds of theconcert will be given to the Charleroi Monessen hospital.

COMMENCEMENT DAY AT MONONGAHELA

The thirty-ninth annual commencement of the Monongahela high school was held in the State Armory Second street, that city, Tuesday evening. By a singular coincidence the number of graduates was thirty-nine. The address to the graduates was delivered by Dr. John C. Acheson, President of the Pensylvania College for Women.

Case Settled Without Going Into Details of Accident

POLICE HAVE THEIR TROUBLES

The case against a Donora auto driver for exceeding the speed limit on our streets, and which was to have been heard before Burgess Woodward Tuesday evening, was settled out of court, the diver finally deciding not to go into a hearing but to accept the verdict of the Burgess.

The incident leading up to the hearing served to cause considerable comment in the borough and many inquiries were made as to why the provisions of the borough ordinance governing such matters were not strictly enforced. This ordinance not only provides against exceeding the speed limit, but likewise refers to the parking of cars and other vehicles on the streets of the borough. Two hours is the limit for a car in any one place, and a failure to comply with this regulations is cause for a fine.

The police department on Tuesday also set marks along the curbs near street corners, beyond which marks it is illegal to park a car, and it is inferred that this phase of the ordinance will be enforced. Local police officers have considerable trouble at times in preventing infractions of the local regulations, although those who are apprehended usually leave a forfeit and then fail to appear. Last Friday night a Monessen driver who was operating his car rather recklessly injured another machine which was standing on McKean avenue. One of the police officers heard the crash and later saw the machine dash down the street. Noting the direction he took the officer walked down town and arrested him. The man left a deposit and then failed to appear, the deposit of course being forfeited to the borough. The public is hoping that the regulations concerning speed at least will be rigidly enforced.

COUNTERFEITERS ARE AGAIN ACTIVE

Federal agents on Monday sent out warning that counterfeiters, after two years of inactivity except the raising of genuine bills, have become unusually active with the result that five new counterfeits have appeared. The raising of genuine notes, is also going on. One of the counterfeits is a $20 reserve note on the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco; another is a $10 note on the Federal Reserve Bank og New York and a third is a $5 note on the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

SAYS TEN-HERBS IS NEXT TO GREAT WAR

Sensational Statement Made By Representative of the Ten-Herbs Medicine

In an interview recently with the Ten-Herbs expert, he gave the following characteristic statements:

"The medical fad of today is Ten-Herbs, the new strength builder. In fact, aside from the great war, the discovery of Ten-Herbs and the possibilities offered by it in the treatment of disease is one of the most talked of subjects in the Nation at the present time.

"Don't grow old before your time. Don't let nervousness wreck your happiness or chances in life. The man or woman with strong, steady nerves is full of vigor, energy, ambition and confidence.

"You can havenerves of steel, a firm step, new courage and a keen mind, by putting your blood and nerves in first-class shape by the use of the new medical discovery, Ten-Herbs, which is inexpensive and efficient.

"Men and women who get up so tired in the morning t hat they have to drag t hemselves to their daily labor, will find that in just a few days they will arise with clear mind, definite purposes and loads of ambition.

"To secure these wonderful results all that is necessary is to take Ten-Herbs, which is a combination of ten of Nature's life-giving herbs which are essential to health, thereby imparting to the sufferer renewed life and hope, and your energy and endurance will be doubled, your mind becomes keener and eyes brighter,and you will feel twice as ambitious as before."

Ten-Herbs is sold in Charleroi at Henning's Drug Store.

WOMAN'S BENEFIT ASSOCIATION OF THE MACCABEES

Victory Loan Subscribers.

Miss Nellie E. Lounsbury, Great Commander of the Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees, with state headquarters at Warren, Pa., has been advised from the Home Office at Port Huron, Michigan, that the total subscription of the Association, for the Victory Loan, would be divided among the different states in accordance with their membership.

Miss Lounsbury was selected by the Supreme Commander, Miss Bina M. West. to receive the total apportionment of $5,000 for Pennsylvania, and the same will be placed through the Woman's Victory Loan Committee, Pennsylvania.

The Association has invested in every loan and now has Liberty Bonds amounting to nearly half a million dollars.

Each member of the association in Pennsylvania will feel a personal patriotic interest in this Five Thousand Dollars. as her membership, united with the thousands of others in the State, makes this subscription to the Victory Loan possible.

During the war, the Association used its thorough organization of 200,000 women to enlist each member actively in cooperating with the government. As fully 80 per cent of the members sent husbands and brothers to the front, their response has been hearty and effective.

The Association is now aiding the returning soldiers in finding employment and in cities. where the sick and wounded are in hispitals, the members of the Association are organized to bring to them, cheer, comfort and assistance. 302-t1

Labor-Saving Devices.

Water is used to transport fine coal through pipes. and in Oregon a blast of air is used to load hay in freight cars. The hay is drawn up to a deck or float beside the car to be loaded, a crane then lifts the hay to this platform, and a blower, driven by a gasoline engine, hurls the hay forcibly into the car, packing it better than can be done with old-fashioned hand fork.

Substitutes for Hickory.

Specifications for handles for intrenching tools were prepared during the war by the forest products laboratory at Madison, allowing seven substitute species in place of hickory and also certain minor defects, thereby making possible greatly increased production for this class of material and at the same time giving satisfactory handles.—University Bulletin.

Look Decent.

Bobby's father was a photographer, and the little fellow had often seen him take pictures and heard him admonish the people to "Look pleasant, please." One day he obtained a small, wornout camera and pretended to take his little playmate's picture. Getting her to stand for a snapshot, he directed: "Now, Hazel, stand still and look decent, please."

RULING ON PAYMENT OF INCOME TAXES

Collector of Internal Revenue C. G. Lewellyn has received a ruling from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to the effect that all persons liable to special tax under what is known as Section 1001 of the Revenue Act of 1918, paragraphs 1 to 11, and Section 1003 of the same act, and also persons liable to additional special tax under the above sections, who for any reasons have not been sent a notice of the tax due, must pay their tax for the period ending June 30, 1919, on or before May 31, 1919. or they will be liable to pay a penalty of 25 per cent in addition to the tax due.

The taxes referred to are what is known as special taxes by internal revenue officials. They are often spoken of as occupational taxes.

Taxpayers who adopted the installment plan for paying their income tax will have one more day than the time allotted for first payment. Collector Lewellyn said that the last day for paying the second installment falls on June 15, which is Sunday, so that the following day will bethe last on which the second installment of income taxes will be received. Persons paying their tax by t his system are urged to make their quarterly returns as early as possible to save the rush of work at the finish.

TELLS GUILD OF THE MOUNTAINEERS

The Westminister Guild of the Washington Avenue church met Tuesday evening, in thehome of Mrs. Arthur Micksch on Washington avenue. The president of the Circle, Miss Bess Richey, led the devotions, after which one new member was received. The lesson was concerning the mountaineers of America and the discussion was led by Mrs. John H. Clutter, who gave many pictures of the mountain lives as portrayed by Miss Bernice Clutter, who is a missionary among them, representing the local Guild. The program was in charge of Miss Nell Ryland, who discussed the material resources of the Southern mountains. Miss Florence Kellogg contributed a piano solo.

It brought out that the child labor bill, which was bitterly fought by the manufacturing interests, is one of the great aids toward the improved conditions sought by all lovers of the future citizens. A pleasant feature of the meeting was a wedding gift of the Circle to Mrs. Zenobe Badoux, who was a bride of recent date. A social hour followed the program.

Let Action Follow Thought.

A philosopher once said that there is no value to any thought, no matter how fine or noble, unless it is transformed into action. If you feel uplifted by beautiful music, do something that will tally with your mood. and then the music has been worth while. If you read something that is inspiring. at once do something. no matter how small, that is a little different and a little superior to your routine. The theory applies with equal truth to the reading of books as more than a pastime.—Chicago American.

Sacrilege.

The Kansas Industrialist says skunk oil and rattlesnake oil are worthless as liniments for rheumatism and kindred ills. Just how far should college papers be allowed to go in interference with free beliefs founded on the traditions of centuries? Pretty soon these young whippersnappers will be telling us that asafoetida amulets ward off neither germs nor devils. and that red beads around the neck won't stop nosebleed.—Grit.

Where the Folly Lies.

It is hardly ever foolish to do a thing because we want to do it. The folly lies in doing a thing because other people think we ought to want to do it. and we do not.

The Word "Magnet."

The word "magnet" is derived from the name of the city of Magnesia, in Asia Minor. where the properties of the loadstone are said to have been discovered.

DIED A GENTLEMAN UNAFRAID

Humor of Billy Manning, Famous Old-Time Comedian, Undimmed Even on His Deathbed.

When the incomparable wag and humorist, Billy Manning, lay dying, Billy Emerson, Dan O'Hara and other friends of long standing made up a calling party.

"Good morning, Bill. How are you today?" was Emerson's salutation for the party.

"Well," the dying minstrel drawled, his sense of humor penetrating even the mists of oncoming death. "I feel a good deal like an old circus horse after the renting season. I want to go 'round, but can't." This was spoken in the tone of hopeless but comic pathos with which poor Bill was wont to catch the public.

"You're looking first-rate," O'Hara put in, trying hard to give his voice a note of cheering encouragement, but gazing sorrowfully at the prone, emaciated figure on the bed.

"Are you lookin' at me, or at the big pillows under me?" Manning queried, winking feebly at his old partner Emerson, who had difficulty in restraining his tears.

"What does the doctor say about you, Bill?" another of the party asked, feeling it incumbent upon himself to say something, anything—a position of extreme difficulty, as any visitor to the dying can testify.

"Oh, he says I need rest. Now there's a doctor—there's a doctor, boys, that knows his business! That's why I bought a lot in the cemetery yesterday. I need—rest."

"Come, now, Bill," said the choking Emerson, "isn't there something you'd like to take outside of what the doctor's giving you?"

"Yes," was the reply. "I'd like to take a benefit."

And that was how the big farewell Manning benefit came about. The minstrel's last days were made easy by it and the sore hearts of his friends and comrades of merrier days and more or less hectic nights correspondingly glad by reflection. The last words of Billy Manning were:

"Boys, I'm billed ahead."

WONDERFUL OLD ST. PAUL'S

Bayard Taylor's Graphic Description of the Beauty of London's Famous Cathedral.

St. Paul's is on a scale of grandeur excelling everything I have yet seen, writes Bayard Taylor of his first trip abroad in 1844. The dome seems to stand in the sky. as you look at it; the distance from which you view it, combined with the atmosphere of London, gives it a dim, shadowy appearance. that startles one with its immensity. The roof from which the dome springs is itself as high as the spires of most other churches; blackened for 300 years with the coal smoke of London it stands like a relic of the giant architecture of the early world.

The interior is what one would expect to behold. after viewing the outside. A maze of grand arches on every side encompasses the dome, at which you gaze up as at the sky; . . . I was never more impressed with the grandeur of human invention than when ascending the dome. I could with difficulty conceive the means by which such a mighty edifice had been lifted into the air. The dome is like the summit of a mountain, so wide is the prospect and so great the pile upon which you stand.

Direct Marketing Limited.

While it may be attractive to a city dweller to believe that he can have a vegetable garden grown for him 100 miles or 150 miles away, place his orders for the cost of a stamp and have the produce delivered at his door, it should be remembered that not all farm products lend themselves to direct marketing by parcel post. Usually it is impracticable to market such heavy products as potatoes by parcel post whereas eggs, butter, sausage, poultry, many vegetables and nut meats may frequently be shipped with profit and at a saving to the purchaser. In general, the greater the value a pound the more favorable is the chance for direct marketing.—Weekly News Letter.

Physiognomy.

There is not a man to be found on earth who is not daily influenced by physiognomy; not a man who cannot figure to himself a countenance which shall to him appear exceedingly lovely, or exceedingly hateful, not a man who does not more or less. the first time he is in the company of a stranger, observe, estimate and compare and judge him according to appearances, although he might never have heard of the word or thing called physiognomy; not a man who does not judge of all things that pass through his hands by their physiognomy; that is. of their internal worth by their external appearance.—John Caspar Lavater.

By experiments on the digestibility of cheese it has been shown that much depends on the special physical character of the food. All fat cheeses are said to be dissolved and digested with great rapidity, because the molecules of casein—the nitrogenous part of the cheese—are separated only by the fat, and so the gastric juice can attack a large surface of the cheese at one time. Whether the cheese be hard or soft does not appear to influence digestion, and there is no connection between the digestibility and the percentage of water present in the cheese.

MONONGAHELA WILL PLAY COLLEGIANS

The Monongahela baseball club will entertain the Pittsburg Collegians on the 30th of May, at which time two games will be played in the afternoon. The first game will be called at 2:00 o'clock and the second game at 3:30. As the local team is away for that day it is likely that a number of Charleroi followers of the game will go down to look the Collegians over, as they are expected to be a local attraction some time during the season. The Monongahela games are now played at thepark in New Eagle, and all street car stop at the park entrance, thus taking patrons right to the gate. The Monongahela team is getting back into its old-time shape and two great games are expected Friday afternoon.
